30 SECTION 1. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF PARENTAL AUTHORITY

Art. 221. Authority of married parents

The father and mother who are married to each other have parental authority over their minor child during the marriage.

Revision Comments - 2015

(a) This Article introduces the subject of parental authority, which exists during the marriage of the parents. The Articles in this Chapter establish a regime, or system of rules, governing the relationship of parent and child. The Articles that follow not only prescribe rights and responsibilities of parents to their children and children to their parents but also provide instruction concerning the proper conduct of good children and good parents.

(b) Parental authority as used in this Article does not refer to the authority of a parent in its broad sense, that is the authority that lasts throughout the lives of both parent and child (see C.C. Art. 236 (Rev. 2015)), but instead refers to such authority in its limited sense that lasts until the majority or emancipation of the child, or the termination of the marriage of the child's parents. See C.C. Art. 235 (Rev. 2015).

(c) Fathers and mothers enjoy parental authority over their child during their marriage, with a few exceptions. See C.C. Arts. 232 and 234 (Rev. 2015). Compare C.C. Art. 216 (1870). By contrast, if the father and mother of the minor child never married or if they divorced, the regime of tutorship exists rather than the regime of parental authority. C.C. Arts. 256 and 246 (1870).

Art. 222. Representation of minor

Parental authority includes representation of the child and the right to designate a tutor for the child.

Revision Comments - 2015

(a) This Article makes explicit that parental authority includes representation of the child. Despite the reference in the title to representation, C.C. Art. 235 (1870) provided simply that fathers and mothers may "appear for [their minor children] in court in every kind of civil suit...." The Code of Civil Procedure recognizes the father and the mother as the proper parties plaintiff and defendant for their minor child. C.C.P. Arts. 683, 732, and 4501. However, C.C. Art. 235 (1870) did not contain a general rule of parental representation of the minor in juridical acts but instead referred only to the parents' acceptance of any donation made to their child. C.C. Art. 1472 (Rev. 1991).

(b) Representation means that the parent may represent the minor child in "legal relations." C.C. Art. 2985 (Rev. 1997). See W. Holmes and S. Symeonides, "Representation, Mandate, and Agency: A Kommentar on Louisiana's New Law," 73 Tul. L. Rev. 1087 (1999). Of course, only the child may enter into some legal relations, such as marriage (C.C. Art. 92 (Rev. 1987) and Ch.C. Arts. 1543 et seq.), making a will (C.C. Art. 1476 (Rev. 1991)), and other legal relations subject to exceptions made by law (see e.g., R.S. 40:1299.35.5). See also Carey v. Population Services, International, 41 U.S. 678, 97 S.Ct. 2010, 52 L.Ed.2d. 675 (1977).

(c) Parental authority includes the right of a parent to designate a testamentary" tutor as permitted by C.C. Art. 257 (1870). The designation can be made by authentic act as well as by testament. See C.C. Art. 219 (1870).

~~Art. 223. Parental usufruct on minor child's property~~

~~Parents have during marriage the enjoyment of the property of their children until their majority or emancipation.~~

~~This usufruct is nonalienable and exempt from seizure.~~

Art. 223. Rights and obligations of parental authority

Parental authority includes rights and obligations of physical care, supervision, protection, discipline, and instruction of the child.

Revision Comments - 2015

(a) This Article introduces the rights and obligations of parents over the person of their child. Principal among these rights and obligations is the physical care of the minor, this right and obligation that was implicit under C.C. Art. 218 (1870). The right to physical care of the child reflects the parents' paramount right to custody of their child, recognized in the jurisprudence. See Reinhardt v. Reinhardt, 720 So. 2d 78, 79 (La.App. 1 Cir. 1998), writs denied 745 So. 2d 22 (1999); Troxel v. Granville, 530 U.S. 57, 120 S.Ct. 2054, 147 L.Ed.2d 49 (2000). Furthermore, this right makes possible in a practical way the rights and obligations of supervision, protection, and instruction.

(b) The parental rights and obligations of supervision and instruction provide the means of performing the parents' obligation of moral and material direction of the child. See C.C. Art. 99 (Rev. 1987). The right to physical care of the child assures parents the opportunity to supervise and instruct their child and to provide for their child's health and safety.

(c) C.C. Art. 235 (1870) imposed an obligation upon the parents to protect their child but contained no language explicitly creating a right of protection. This revision incorporates both a parental right and obligation to protect the child.

~~Art. 224. Obligations resulting from parents' usufruct~~

~~The obligations resulting from this enjoyment shall be:~~

- ~~1. The same obligations to which usufructuaries are subjected;~~
- ~~2. To support, to maintain and to educate their children according to their situation in life.~~

SECTION 2. OBLIGATIONS OF PARENTS

Art. 224. Parental obligation of support and education

Parents are obligated to support, maintain, and educate their child. The obligation to educate a child continues after minority as provided by law.

Revision Comments - 2015

(a) This Article is the first of three Articles imposing obligations upon the parents toward their child and third persons. The obligation of parents to support and maintain their minor child under this Article is identical to its predecessor, C.C. Art.

1 227 (1870), but distinguishable from the obligation of parents who enjoyed a
 2 usufruct over their child's property under C.C. Art. 224 (1870). Parents with a
 3 usufruct over their minor child's property were obligated to support and maintain 4 their child "according to their situation in life." C.C. Art. 224 (1870). Nevertheless,
 5 C.C. Art. 227 (1870) was interpreted as imposing a responsibility upon parents to 6 support their child in accordance with their standard of living during their marriage.
 7 See Comment (c) to C.C. Art. 141 (Rev. 1993).

 9 (b) The parents' obligation to educate their minor child continues after 10 minority for a child who "is a full-time student in good standing in a secondary 11 school or its equivalent, has not attained the age of nineteen, and is dependent upon 12 either parent" and when the child "has a developmental disability, as defined in R.S.
 13 28:451.2, until he attains the age of twenty-two, as long as the child is a full-time
 14 student in a secondary school." This does not change prior law. See C.C. Art. 230
 15 (1870); R.S. 9:315.22(C) and (D).

 17 (c) Although a parent is obligated to support, maintain, and educate his 18 minor child, the unemancipated child may not enforce the obligation against any 19 person who has parental authority. R.S. 9:571 (Rev. 2015). Nevertheless, in a 20 proceeding for divorce, or while the spouses are living separate and apart, a spouse
 21 who seeks custody of a child may also assert a claim for child support. C.C. Art. 105
 22 (Rev. 1990), Arts. 141-142 (Rev. 1993); R.S. 9:315-315.26. See also R.S. 9:291
 23 (claim for child support if living separate and apart).

24 Art. 225. Parental liability for child's offenses and quasi-offenses

25 Parents are responsible for damage occasioned by their child as provided

26 by law.

27 Revision Comment - 2015

28 This Article does not change the law; it merely replaces C.C. Art. 237 (1870)
 29 and recognizes the liability of parents for damage "occasioned by their minor child"
 30 as provided in C.C. Art. 2318. This liability rests upon the authority of the parents 31 over the person of their child--the rights to and obligations of the physical care,
 32 supervision, protection, discipline, and instruction of the child. See C.C. Art. 223
 33 (Rev. 2015) and Turner v. Bucher, 308 So.2d 270 (La. 1975).

34 ~~Art. 226. Parent's usufruct in child's estate; exceptions~~

35 ~~This usufruct shall not extend to any estate, which the children may acquire~~ 36 ~~by their own labor and industry, nor to such estate as is given or left them under the~~ 37 ~~express condition that the father and mother shall not enjoy such usufruct. Neither~~
 38 ~~shall such usufruct extend to such estate as is given the children by donation inter~~
 39 ~~vivos unless such estate shall have been donated by written act and the right to such~~ 40 ~~usufruct has been provided for therein.~~

41 Art. 226. Parental obligation of direction

Revision Comments -- 2015

(a) Parents assume the moral obligation of providing moral, social, and material direction to their child. C.C. Art. 99 (Rev. 1987) explains that, by marrying, spouses mutually assume the moral and material direction of their children.

(b) Moral direction includes instruction and exhortation concerning moral obligations and common moral principles. Social direction is more expansive and contemplates, for example, instruction concerning acceptable conduct within the broader community and the necessity of considering and balancing the needs of others and the community against the individual's desires. Instruction concerning basic economic matters, such as living within one's means, falls within the purview of material direction.

(c) C.C. Art. 223 implicitly and Art. 228 (Rev. 2015) explicitly impose obligations upon the child to obey his parents and upon the parent to instruct his child, with the concomitant right to correct the child in a reasonable manner, all for the purpose of assuring a legally practical means of accomplishing the parents' obligation to provide direction for their child.

~~Art. 227. Parental support and education of children.~~

~~Fathers and mothers, by the very act of marrying, contract together the obligation of supporting, maintaining, and educating their children.~~

SECTION 3. OBLIGATIONS OF CHILDREN

Art. 227. Parental control

A child owes assistance to his parents and may not quit a family residence without the consent of both parents, except as otherwise provided by law.

Revision Comments - 2015

(a) The explicit obligation a child owes to assist his father and mother is new. Assistance includes, at the least, the personal care of an ill or infirm parent, just as the obligation of assistance reciprocally assumed by spouses includes such responsibility. C.C. Art. 98 (Rev. 1987), Revision Comment (c). In addition, assistance more broadly defined includes cooperating and participating in the daily tasks required for the efficient functioning of the family and other responsibilities that are consistent with the purposes and goals of family life. This obligation of assistance, however, does not include monetary support.

(b) As long as the minor is unemancipated, he may not leave the family home without the consent of both parents for the purpose of establishing a residence separate from his parents. "Quit" does not refer to a temporary absence. On this point, this Article makes no change in the law. C.C. Art. 218 (1870).

~~Art. 228. Marriage settlement or advancement~~

~~A child has no right to sue either his father or mother for the purpose of obtaining a marriage settlement or other advancement.~~

Art. 228. Child's obligation of obedience; parental correction

1                    A child shall obey his parents in all matters not contrary to law or good
 2                    morals. Parents have the right and obligation to correct and discipline the child
 3                    in a reasonable manner.

4                    Revision Comments - 2015

5                    (a) This Article restates the substance of C.C. Art. 217 (1870). The child's 6                    obligation of obedience serves as the foundation for the parental right of correction.
 7                    See C.C. Art. 223 (Rev. 2015).

 9                    (b) Consistently with its predecessor, C.C. Art. 218 (1870), the second
 10                    sentence of this Article bestows upon parents the right to correct their child in a
 11                    reasonable manner. This right to correct is essential to compliance with the parental
 12                    obligations of physical care, supervision, protection, and instruction. Since 13                    acculturation of children occurs principally within the family, the law recognizes the 14                    necessity of reasonable discipline by those who love the child to instill character, 15                    self-discipline, and virtue.

16                    ~~Art. 229. Reciprocal alimentary duties of ascendants and descendants~~

17                    ~~Children are bound to maintain their father and mother and other ascendants,~~
 18                    ~~who are in need, and the relatives in the direct ascending line are likewise bound to~~
 19                    ~~maintain their needy descendants, this obligation being reciprocal. This reciprocal~~
 20                    ~~obligation is limited to life's basic necessities of food, clothing, shelter, and health~~
 21                    ~~care, and arises only upon proof of inability to obtain these necessities by other~~
 22                    ~~means or from other sources.~~

23                    SECTION 4. AUTHORITY OVER THE PROPERTY OF THE CHILD

24                    Art. 229. Administration of the property of the child

25                    Each parent has the right and the obligation to administer the property
 26                    of the child. The parent must do so as a prudent administrator and is 27                    answerable for any damage caused by his fraud, fault, default, or neglect. An 28                    action for failure to perform this obligation is subject to a liberative
 29                    prescription of five years that commences to run from the day the child attains
 30                    the age of majority.

31                    Revision Comments - 2015

32                    (a) This Article departs from its predecessor by granting the right to 33                    administer the minor child's property to either parent. Under C.C. Art. 221 (1870), 34                    the father was the administrator of the minor's estate unless he was interdicted or 35                    absent (an absent person under C.C. Art. 47 (Rev. 1990)). See also C.C.P. Art. 683
 36                    (as amended 2012) and Art. 732 (as amended 2004), which as a general rule made 37                    the father the proper party plaintiff and defendant for the minor child during the 38                    existence of parental authority. Upon enactment in 1987, however, C.C. Art. 99

1 recognized that parental authority was to be exercised equally. See 1987 Revision
2 Comment to C.C. Art. 99 (Rev. 1987).

4 (b) The standard of care imposed upon the parent who administers the minor 5 child's property is that of a prudent administrator, and the administration must be for 6 the benefit of the minor child. Usufructuaries (C.C. Art. 576), spouses who are 7 co-owners of former community property (C.C. Art. 2369.3), managers under a
8 negotiorum gestio (C.C. Art. 2295), and tutors (C.C.P. Art. 4262) are subject to the 9 same standard. Furthermore, this Article imposes the standard of care in the context
10 of the principle that the property be administered for the benefit of the child. In this 11 respect, the responsibility of the parents resembles the responsibility of those who 12 administer the property of another, such as the trustee who has a duty to administer
13 the trust solely in the interest of the beneficiary; R.S. 9:2082.

14
15 Consistent with the standard of care imposed upon the parent who 16 administers the minor's property, this Article imposes liability upon the 17 administering parent "for any damage caused by his fraud, fault, default, or neglect."
18 Similar language appears in C.C. Art. 576 (liability of usufructuary to the naked 19 owner) and Art. 2369.3 (liability of a spouse to the other spouse for failure to 20 manage former community property prudently).

22 (c) Acts of administration differ from acts of alienation, encumbrance, or 23 lease. The ability of the parents to act alone without court approval in matters
24 affecting the minor child's property depends upon the nature of the act: either parent 25 may administer the child's property without court supervision; a parent may dispose 26 of the child's property only with prior court approval (See C.C. Art. 230 [Rev.
27 2015]), except as otherwise provided by law (see R.S. 9:572 (Rev. 2015)).
28 Administration contemplates preservation or protection of acquired rights or the 29 exploitation of them without changing the substantial character of the minor's
30 patrimony as a whole. Disposition is any other act that is not administration.

31
32 In the different, yet analogous, regime of tutorship, the Code of Civil 33 Procedure contains detailed articles governing when the tutor needs court approval.
34 Nevertheless, those articles do not provide a complete solution to the problem of 35 distinguishing between the two types of acts: some acts that require court approval
36 are purely administrative. Other acts are of such gravity that a requirement of court
37 approval might be expected; yet there is no legislation specifically requiring it. This 38 Article clearly contemplates a difference between administration and disposition that 39 more nearly reflects the classic distinction. See Katherine Shaw Spaht, Family Law
40 in Louisiana, 714-715 (2000).

41 ~~Art. 230. Scope of alimentary obligation~~

42 ~~A. By alimony we understand what is necessary for the nourishment,~~
43 ~~lodging, and support of the person who claims it.~~

44 ~~B.(1) It includes the education, when the person to whom the alimony is due~~
45 ~~is a minor, or when the person to whom alimony is due is a major who is a full-time~~
46 ~~student in good standing in a secondary school, has not attained the age of nineteen,~~
47 ~~and is dependent upon either parent.~~

48 ~~(2) It includes the education, when the person to whom the alimony is due~~
49 ~~has not attained the age of twenty-two and has a developmental disability as defined~~

1 ~~in R.S. 28:381.~~

2 Art. 230. Alienation, encumbrance, or lease of the property of the child;
 3 expenditure of fruits

4 Either parent may alienate, encumber, or lease the property of the child,
 5 compromise a claim of the child, or incur an obligation of the child for his 6 education, support, and maintenance only with prior court approval, except as 7 otherwise provided by law.

8 Nevertheless, a parent may expend, without court approval, the fruits of 9 the child's property for the shared benefit of the family, excluding major
 10 children not living in the household, or for the expenses of the child's household 11 or property.

12 Revision Comments - 2015

13 (a) In contrast to Article 229 referring to acts of administration, this Article, 14 as a general proposition, requires the parent to obtain prior court approval in the 15 manner provided by C.C.P. Art. 4501 (Rev. 2015), if the act contemplated by the 16 parent is an alienation, encumbrance, or lease of the minor child's property, including 17 the compromise of a claim of the child, or of the act includes incurring an obligation
 18 of the child. All such acts must be for the purpose of education, support, or 19 maintenance of the child. See C.C. Art. 224 (Rev. 2015).

 21 The procedure for obtaining court approval is intended to provide protection
 22 to the minor child. See C.C.P. Arts. 4271 and 4501 (Rev. 2015). If a parent does not 23 obtain court approval of a transaction when approval is required, the transaction is 24 relatively null. See C.C. Arts. 2031 and 2033 (Rev. 1984); Snowden v. Huey P. Long
 25 Memorial Hospital, 581 So.2d 287 (La.App. 3 Cir. 1991). See also Succession of 26 Hellmers, 637 So.2d 1302 (La.App. 4 Cir. 1994); and Carter v. Fenner, 136 F.3d
 27 1000 (5 Cir. 1998).

28
 29 (b) R.S. 9:572 (Rev. 2015) permits a parent to take certain actions without 30 prior court approval, such as alienation of the minor's movable property if the sum
 31 received does not exceed $15,000.

32
 33 (c) A major exception to the requirement of court approval for alienation of 34 the minor's property is the expenditure of fruits of the minor's property for two 35 purposes - expenses of the child's household, such as electricity, water, rent, or for 36 the shared benefit of the family. "Family" as used in this Article is family in its 37 limited sense under C.C. Art. 3506 (12), which consists of "father, mother, and 38 children." Nonetheless, this Article further restricts the meaning of family to exclude 39 major children not living in the household, even though they are included within the 40 broad definition of "children" in Article 3506 (8).

 42 (d) The second paragraph of this Article is intended as a substitute for the 43 former parental right of enjoyment, which was a form of usufruct enjoyed by parents
 44 during the existence of parental authority. See C.C. Arts. 223-226 (1870). Prior law
 45 restricted the type of property of the minor child subject to the right of enjoyment,
 46 by excluding, for example, property earned by the minor's own labor and industry
 47 or donated to the minor (C.C. Art. 226 (1870)). But property subject to the parents'
 48 enjoyment made them the owners of the fruits of the property. As a consequence of

1 being owner of the fruits produced from such property of the minor child, the parents
 2 could expend those fruits as they saw fit, for any purpose. This Article changes the 3 law: although it does not create a parental right of enjoyment subject to the rules of 4 the law of usufruct, it does permit the parents to use the fruits from all of the minor's
 5 property but only for limited purposes which are described in the Article.

7 (e) Code of Civil Procedure Article 4521 (Rev. 2015) contains further 8 protection, in the interest of the minor, when his property consists of a judgment or 9 settlement, as in the case of the minor child's personal injury recovery. The court has 10 authority to order the funds from a minor's personal injury recovery to be deposited 11 in the registry of the court, to be expended only for certain authorized purposes, or 12 to be placed in trust. In addition the court has authority to impose other restrictions 13 upon the use and withdrawal of such funds as it deems necessary to protect the 14 interest of the minor child in accordance with the provisions of C.C.P. Article 4521
 15 (Rev. 2015).

17 (f) The right of parents to expend the fruits of the child's property for 18 authorized purposes without court approval under this Article is forfeited if one of 19 the parents is declared unworthy to succeed and his child inherits under the 20 provisions of C.C. Art. 946(B).

~~Art. 231. Basis for granting alimony.~~

~~Alimony shall be granted in proportion to the wants of the person requiring it, and the circumstances of those who are to pay it.~~

Art. 231. Parents' obligation to deliver and account

Parents are bound to deliver to the child his property at termination of parental authority.

Parents shall also give an account of their administration when ordered by the court. The action to compel an accounting is subject to a liberative prescription of five years that commences to run from the day the child attains
 the age of majority.

31 Revision Comments - 2015

32 (a) At termination of parental authority for a cause provided in C.C. Art. 235
 33 (Rev. 2015), the parents are obligated to deliver to the child his property in their 34 possession and/or under their control. In addition they are bound to "give an account
 35 of their administration...." just as a tutor must. See C.C.P. Art. 4392. For example, 36 they must explain what happened to the child's property that is no longer in their
 37 possession or under their control and for what purpose any proceeds were expended.
 38

39 (b) The action instituted by the child to obtain an accounting from the 40 parents at termination of parental authority is a summary proceeding. See C.C.P.
 41 Art. 2592(9) (Rev. 2015).
 42

43 (c) The action to enforce the obligation to deliver the child's property is not 44 subject to liberative prescription. See Yiannopoulos, Property (Civ.L.Treat., vol. 2),
 45 Section 279, at 557-558 (4th ed. 2001). In contrast, the action by the child to compel
 46 an accounting is a personal action that prescribes in five years from the day the child
 47 attains the age of majority.

1 (d) The obligations of the parents contained in this Article are governed by 2 general principles of the law of obligations in determining if the obligation of the 3 parents is joint or solidary (C.C. Arts. 1786-1788, 1794-1806 (Rev. 1984)), and if 4 joint, whether divisible or indivisible (C.C. Art. 1789 (Rev. 1984)).

 9 ~~and granted.~~

10 SECTION 5. PERSON HAVING PARENTAL AUTHORITY AND 11 OF ITS DELEGATION AND SUSPENSION

12 Art. 232. Parental authority

13 Either parent during the marriage has parental authority over his child
 14 unless otherwise provided by law.

15 Under extraordinary circumstances, such as if one parent is mentally
 16 incompetent, interdicted, or imprisoned, or is an absent person, the other parent
 17 has exclusive authority.

18 Revision Comments - 2015

19 (a) Under this Article, which changes the law in part, parental authority may 20 be exercised by either parent. The predecessor of this Article, Civil Code Article 216 21 (1870), acknowledged that parents shared this authority, but "[i]n the case of 22 difference between the parents, the authority of the father prevails." Nevertheless,
 23 the jurisprudence never applied the Article strictly. See Wood v. Beard, 290 So.2d
 24 675 (La. 1974). Article 99 of the Civil Code, which was later legislation enacted in 25 1987, provides that spouses by the act of marrying "mutually assume the moral and 26 material direction of the family, exercise parental authority, and assume the moral 27 and material obligations resulting therefrom." The Revision Comment to C.C. Art.
 28 99 (Rev. 1987) explains that that Article "states a general principle of equality
 29 between the spouses in the moral and material direction of the family." This Article
 30 explicitly recognizes the general principle of equality of the parents in the exercise 31 of parental authority by permitting either parent acting alone to exercise any facet of 32 this authority, with certain specified exceptions. See the second paragraph of this 33 Article and C.C. Art. 234 (Rev. 2015).

 35 (b) An instance under this Article for the exercise of one parent's exclusive 36 authority occurs when there are extraordinary circumstances, such as the mental 37 incompetence, commitment, or imprisonment of the other parent or the other parent
 38 is an absent person under C.C. Art. 47 (Rev. 1990). The illustrative list of 39 extraordinary circumstances is similar to that contained in C.C. Art. 2355 (Rev.
 40 1979).

 42 The list of extraordinary circumstances in this Article differs from that 43 contained in C.C. Art. 2355 (Rev. 1979) in the following respect: this Article 44 includes interdiction of a parent. Interdiction may be full or limited. If a parent has

1 been fully interdicted (see C.C. Art. 389 [Rev. 2000]), the second paragraph of this
2 Article applies. If the interdiction of a parent is limited (see C.C. Art. 390 [Rev.
3 2000]), the second paragraph applies only if the judgment of limited interdiction
4 places parental authority in his curator. See C.C. Art. 395 (Rev. 2000), which 5 distinguishes the effect of a full and a limited interdiction.

6 ~~Art. 233. Duty to receive in home in lieu of alimony payments~~

7 ~~If the person, whose duty it is to furnish alimony, shall prove that he is unable~~
8 ~~to pay the same, the judge may, after examining into the case, order that such person~~
9 ~~shall receive in his house, and there support and maintain the person to whom he~~ 10 ~~owes alimony.~~

11 Art. 233. Delegation of parental authority

12 Parents may delegate all or a part of their parental authority to others
13 as provided by law.

14 Parents delegate a part of their parental authority to teachers and others
15 to whom they entrust their child for his education, insofar as may be necessary.

16 Revision Comments - 2015

17 (a) As under prior law, parents may delegate all or a part of their parental
18 authority. This revision recognizes the right of parents to delegate their authority 19 under the following circumstances: (1) upon execution of a mandate granting 20 provisional custody under the provisions of and for the purposes contained in R.S.
21 9:951-954; (2) upon a voluntary transfer of custody to other responsible adults under 22 the provisions of Children's Code Articles 1510 et seq.; (3) upon an express grant of 23 authority to a person with whom the parent places the child, for example, a 24 babysitter, neighbor, or grandparent; or (4) when the circumstances are such that it 25 is customary for parents to delegate a part of their authority, for example, the child's 26 overnight visits in the homes of friends.

27
28 (b) C.C. Art. 220 (1870) permitted parents to delegate a part of their 29 authority to teachers and others to whom they entrusted their children for education.
30 This revision recognizes that by virtue of the provisions of R.S. 17:223 (discipline 31 of pupils; suspension from school; corporeal punishment), parents by the very act of 32 enrolling their children in school in effect do delegate a part of their authority to 33 teachers and others for the purpose of educating their child. The Article thus 34 accomplishes a legal delegation of parental authority implicit in the provisions of 35 Title 17 of the Revised Statutes.

36
37 (c) A delegation of parental authority does not relieve a parent of liability for 38 a child's offenses or quasi-offenses under C.C. Art. 225 (Rev. 2015) and Art. 2318
39 (Rev. 2008). See C.C. Art. 2318 (Rev. 2008).

40 ~~Art. 234. Parental choice to receive child at home in lieu of alimony payments~~

41 ~~The judge shall pronounce likewise whether the father or mother who may~~ 42 ~~offer to receive, support and maintain the child, to whom he or she may owe~~ 43 ~~alimony, in his or her house, shall be dispensed in that case from the obligation of~~

1 paying for it elsewhere.

2 Art. 234. Parental authority; custody award

3 Parental authority continues during marriage, unless modified by a
 4 judgment awarding custody to one parent, by a joint custody implementation
 5 order, or by a judgment awarding custody to a third person.

6 An ascendant, other than a parent, who is awarded custody has parental
 7 authority. The authority of a third person who is awarded custody, other than 8 an ascendant, is governed by the rules of tutorship, unless modified by court
 9 order.

10 Revision Comments - 2015

11 (a) This Article is new. It provides that the general rule that parental 12 authority continues until the parents' marriage terminates unless modified by court
 13 order. A court order of custody modifying parental authority may be rendered during 14 the marriage pursuant to a rule to show cause while the parents are living separate 15 and apart (R.S. 9:291) or after a petition for divorce has been filed (C.C. Arts. 105, 16 131, and 136). A custody award may also be made in a proceeding for a judicial 17 separation in a covenant marriage See R.S. 9:308(D).

 19 (b) The reference to a modification by a joint custody implementation order
 20 includes the possibility of the designation under R.S. 9:335(B) of a domiciliary
 21 parent, a term that is defined as the parent with whom the child primarily resides.
 22 This designation necessarily modifies parental authority because the "domiciliary 23 parent" has sole authority to make all decisions affecting the child unless the 24 implementation order specifically modifies this authority. If no domiciliary parent
 25 is named but the implementation order is detailed and provides for decision-making
 26 by one or both parents as contemplated by R.S. 9:335(A), the order modifies parental 27 authority. If no domiciliary parent is designated and no specific allocation of 28 decision-making authority is contained in a joint custody implementation order,
 29 parental authority is unmodified according to R.S. 9:335(C).

30
 31 (c) The reference to a modification by a judgment awarding custody to one 32 parent contemplates the possibility that a custody award to one parent conveying 33 authority over the child can modify parental authority. A sole custody award to one 34 parent may be modified by the provisions of a court order and affect the authority of 35 the custodial parent. The terms of the judgment determine the extent to which 36 parental authority is modified.

37
 38 (d) For a parent without parental authority because of a sole custody award
 39 to the other parent or the provisions of a joint custody implementation order, certain 40 rights and obligations nonetheless continue. For example, a parent awarded 41 visitation under the provisions of C.C. Art. 136(A) may discipline and correct the 42 child absent a contradictory provision in the court order of visitation. Likewise, the 43 noncustodial parent remains obligated to support, maintain and educate the child, an 44 obligation that is often enforced by a child support award under C.C. Art. 141 and 45 R.S. 9:315 et seq. These rights and obligations attach to parenthood, more generally, 46 and are not limited to a narrower concept of parental authority.

47
 48 (e) If the court awards custody of the child to a third person during the 49 existence of parental authority, as it may under C.C. Art. 133, the general principle adopted by this Article is that, with one narrow exception, the third person has the authority of a tutor under C.C. Arts. 246 et seq. The only exception to this general principle is for ascendants, other than a parent, awarded custody of the child. An ascendant awarded custody of a minor child during the existence of parental authority exercises such authority. Although the ascendant with custody has the authority of a parent, the custody award to the ascendant does not displace the obligation owed by a parent to the child to support, maintain, and educate the child, C.C. Art. 224 (Rev. 2015) nor does the ascendant assume a more onerous obligation of support than the reciprocal obligation imposed by C.C. Art. 237 (Rev. 2015) owed by all ascendants and descendants to each other.

~~Art. 235. Parental protection and representation of children in litigation~~

~~Fathers and mothers owe protection to their children, and of course they may, as long as their children are under their authority, appear for them in court in every kind of civil suit, in which they may be interested, and they may likewise accept any donation made to them.~~

SECTION 6. TERMINATION OF PARENTAL AUTHORITY

Art. 235. Termination of parental authority

Parental authority terminates upon the child's attaining the age of majority, upon the child's emancipation, or upon termination of the marriage of the parents of the child.

Revision Comment - 2015

(a) This Article does not change the law: parental authority terminates when the child reaches majority or is emancipated, or when the marriage of the parents terminates. See C.C. Arts. 221 and 246 (1870) and C.C. Art. 101 (Rev. 1990).

(b) Parental authority also terminates upon a judgment of separation from bed and board in a covenant marriage (R.S. 9:309). Parental authority is suspended upon the appointment of a guardian under the Children's Code (Ch.C. Art. 682) or upon the rendition of some other judgment by public law which removes the child from the care and custody of his parents or interferes with either or both parents' authority over their child. See, e.g., C.C. Art. 234 (Rev. 2015); Williams v. City of Baton Rouge, 252 La. 770, 214 So. 2d 138 (La. 1968); Redd v. Bohannon, 166 So. 2d 362 (La. App 3 Cir. 1964).

(c) Parental authority lasts until the child reaches majority at eighteen years or is emancipated. A child may be emancipated by judicial emancipation, marriage, or authentic act. See C.C. Arts. 365-369 (Rev. 2008).

~~Art. 236. Justification of parent's assault in defense of children~~

~~Fathers and mothers may justify themselves in an action begun against them for assault and battery, if they have acted in the defense of the persons of their children.~~

CHAPTER 6. OBLIGATIONS OF CHILDREN AND PARENTS

1 AND OTHER ASCENDANTS2 Art. 236. Filial honor and respect

3 A child regardless of age owes honor and respect to his father and 4 mother.

5 Revision Comment - 2015

6 The duty of a child to honor and respect his parents is not limited to the 7 minority of a child. See C.C. Art. 215 (1870). Although no direct sanction for the 8 breach of this obligation exists, the purpose of this Article is both hortatory and 9 instructive as to the conduct of a good child of any age. Of course, if the child is a 10 forced heir and the disrespectful act is sufficiently extreme, the parent is permitted
 11 to disinherit the child. See C.C. Arts. 1617 and 1621 (Rev. 2001).

12 ~~Art. 237. Parents' liability for offenses or quasi-offenses of children~~

13 ~~Fathers and mothers are answerable for the offenses or quasi-offenses~~
 14 ~~committed by their children, in the cases prescribed under the title: Of~~ 15 ~~Quasi-Contracts, and of Offenses and Quasi-Offenses.~~

16 Art. 237. Obligation of providing the basic necessities of life; ascendants and 17 descendants; exceptions

18 Descendants are bound to provide the basic necessities of life to their
 19 ascendants who are in need, upon proof of inability to obtain these necessities 20 by other means or from other sources, and ascendants are likewise bound to 21 provide for their needy descendants, this obligation being reciprocal.

22 This obligation is strictly personal and is limited to the basic necessities
 23 of food, clothing, shelter, and health care.

24 This obligation is owed by descendants and ascendants in the order of 25 their degree of relationship to the obligee and is joint and divisible among 26 obligors. Nevertheless, if the obligee is married, the obligation of support owed 27 by his descendants and ascendants is secondary to the obligation owed by his 28 spouse.

29 Revision Comments - 2015

30 (a) This Article contains the provisions of former C.C. Art. 229 (Rev. 1979).
 31 It imposes a reciprocal lifetime obligation upon ascendants and descendants, 32 relationships determined in accordance with C.C. Arts. 899-901, to provide the basic 33 necessities of life, which explicitly are limited to food, clothing, shelter and health
 34 care. This obligation exists only when the obligee proves that he is unable to obtain 35 these necessities "by other means" or "from other sources."

(b) The needs of the obligee, referred to in C.C. Art. 238 (Rev. 2015), are to be measured by the basic necessities of life explicitly delineated in this Article as food, clothing, shelter, and basic or essential health care.

(c) The phrase "by other means" includes the capital resources and the earning capacity of the obligee. See Levy v. Levy, 536 So.2d 742 (La.App. 3 Cir. 1988); Landeche v. Airhart, 372 So.2d 598 (La.App. 4 Cir. 1979).

(d) The phrase "from other sources" includes public assistance.

(e) For the first time this Article provides a ranking of those descendants and ascendants who owe this reciprocal, lifetime obligation. Furthermore, this Article also directs that, if the obligee is married, the obligation of support owed by one spouse to the other (see C.C. Art. 98 (Rev. 1987)) primes the limited obligation owed by ascendants and descendants. See Matheny v. Matheny, 205 La. 869, 18 So.2d 324 (La. 1944); Lyons v. Landry, 293 So.2d 674 (La.App 1 Cir. 1974); McCole v. McCole, 383 So.2d 55 (La.App 2 Cir. 1980); and Simon v. Simon, 127 So.2d 769 (La.App. 3 Cir. 1961). The ranking of obligors imposes the obligation first upon the spouse, then upon the descendants and ascendants closest in degree of relationship to the obligee. To determine the closest in degree of relationship to the obligee, see C.C. Arts. 900 and 901 (Rev. 1981).

(f) This Article specifically provides that this obligation is strictly personal, not heritable (see C.C. Arts. 1766 and 1765 (Rev. 1984)) and as a consequence may not be enforced by a third person. This Article is explicit that the obligation is joint and divisible among obligors, not solidary. See C.C. Arts. 1786, 1788, 1789, and 1790 (Rev. 1984).

7                    Revision Comment - 2015

8                    This Article incorporates the provisions of C.C. Art. 232 (1870), which 9 provided for the change or termination of an alimony award if the need of the obligee
10 or the ability of the obligor to pay changed or the award became unnecessary. See
11 Comment (a) to C.C. Art. 238 (Rev. 2015) and C.C. Art. 142 (Rev. 2001), Art. 114
12 (Rev. 2001), and Art. 115 (Rev. 1997).

22 ~~Art. 242. Conditions governing claim to alimony~~

23                    ~~But in order that they may have a right to sue for this alimony, they must:~~

28                    2. ~~They must prove in a satisfactory manner that they stand absolutely in~~ 29 ~~need of such alimony for their support.~~

30 ~~Art. 243. Termination of duty to pay alimony~~

31                    ~~The obligation of giving such alimony ceases, when the illegitimate child is~~ 32 ~~able to earn his subsistence by labor, or whenever his father or mother have [has]~~ 33 ~~caused him to be instructed in an art, trade or profession fit to procure him a~~

1 sufficient livelihood, unless some continual sickness or infirmity prevents such child
 2 from working for his subsistence.

3 ~~The debt of alimony ceases likewise to be due from the estate of the father~~
 4 ~~or mother of the illegitimate child whenever either of them has provided during his~~
 5 ~~or her life a sufficient maintenance for his or her illegitimate child, or have made to~~

12 ~~In a proceeding in which custody of an illegitimate child formally~~ 13 ~~acknowledged by both parents is sought by both parents, and in proceedings for~~ 14 ~~change of custody after an original award, custody shall be awarded in accordance~~
 15 ~~with the provisions on custody incident to divorce contained in Title V of this Book.~~

16 Section 2. Titles VII and VII-A of Book VII of the Code of Civil Procedure, 17 consisting of Articles 4501, 4502, 4521 and 4522, to consist of Articles 4501 and 4521, and 18 Code of Civil Procedure Articles 683, 732 and 2592 are hereby amended and reenacted, and 19 Code of Civil Procedure Article 74.6 is hereby enacted, to read as follows:

20 Art. 74.6. Actions to seek court approval by parents during marriage

21 During the marriage of a minor's parents, an action to seek court 22 approval to alienate, encumber, or lease the property of the minor, incur an 23 obligation of the minor, or compromise a claim of the minor may be brought in 24 the domicile of the minor, or if the parents seek to compromise a claim of the 25 minor in a pending action, in that action.

26 * * *

27 Art. 683. Unemancipated minor

28 A. An unemancipated minor ~~does not have the~~ has no procedural capacity 29 to sue.

30 B. ~~Except as otherwise provided in Article 4431, the tutor is the proper~~

1 interdicted, imprisoned, or is an absent person. See C.C. Art. 232 (Rev. 2015).
 2 Additionally, an ascendant of the minor, other than the parent, who is awarded
 3 custody during the marriage of the parents, has parental authority. See C.C. Art. 234
 4 (Rev. 2015). Therefore, under this revision, all persons having parental authority
 5 must be joined, but one person may act alone if extraordinary circumstances exist,
 6 see C.C. Art. 232, or with court approval when the other person fails or refuses to 7 act. Under prior law, the father was the proper plaintiff to sue and only if the father
 8 was mentally incompetent, committed, interdicted, imprisoned, or an absent person
 9 was the mother the proper plaintiff to sue. See Article 683 (as amended prior to 10 2015).

 12 (b) The failure to join all persons having parental authority can be raised by 13 the peremptory exception of nonjoinder of a party. See C.C.P. Art. 927.

14 * * *

15
 16 Art. 732. Unemancipated minor

17 A. An unemancipated minor has no procedural capacity to be sued.

18 B. ~~Except as otherwise provided in Article 4431, the tutor appointed by a~~
 19 ~~court of this state is the proper defendant in an action to enforce an obligation against~~ 20 ~~an unemancipated minor, when one or both of the parents are dead, the parents are~~ 21 ~~divorced or judicially separated, or the minor is born outside of the marriage. If such~~ 22 ~~a minor has no tutor, the action may be brought against the minor, but the court shall~~ 23 ~~appoint an attorney at law to represent him.~~ Any person having parental authority 24 over an unemancipated minor is a proper defendant in an action to enforce an 25 obligation against the minor.

26 C. ~~The father, as administrator of the estate of his minor child, is the proper~~ 27 ~~defendant in an action to enforce an obligation against an unemancipated minor who~~
 28 ~~is born of the marriage of parents who are living and not divorced or judicially~~
 29 ~~separated. The mother, as the administratrix of the estate of her minor child, is the~~
 30 ~~proper defendant in such an action, when the father is mentally incompetent,~~
 31 ~~committed, interdicted, imprisoned, or an absentee. Moreover, with permission of~~ 32 ~~the judge, the mother may represent the minor whenever the father fails or refuses~~ 33 ~~to do so.~~ During tutorship, the tutor is the proper defendant in an action to 34 enforce an obligation against the unemancipated minor. If a minor has no
 35 tutor, the action may be brought against the minor, but the court shall appoint
 36 an attorney to represent him until a tutor is appointed for the minor.

37 D. Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph A, B, or C of this Article,

1 an attorney appointed by the court having jurisdiction over an unemancipated minor
 2 who is in the legal custody of the Department of Children and Family Services is the
 3 proper defendant in an action to enforce an obligation against an unemancipated
 4 minor. Upon application of the tutor or ~~parent~~ person having parental authority
 5 who would otherwise be the proper defendant to be sued pursuant to Paragraph B or 6 C of this Article, the court shall appoint or substitute as the proper defendant the 7 best qualified among the tutor, ~~parent~~ a person having parental authority, or the 8 appointed attorney.

9 Revision Comments - 2015

10 This Article changes the law in part. When parents are married, any person 11 having parental authority can be the proper defendant in an action to enforce an 12 obligation against an unemancipated minor. Either parent during the marriage has 13 parental authority of the child unless extraordinary circumstances exist. See C.C.
 14 Art. 232 (Rev. 2015). Additionally, an ascendant of the minor, other than the parent, 15 who is awarded custody during the marriage of the parents, has parental authority.
 16 See C.C. Art. 234 (Rev. 2015). Under prior law, the father was the proper party to 17 be sued and only if the father was mentally incompetent, committed, interdicted,
 18 imprisoned, or an absent person was the mother the proper party to sue. See Article 19 732 (as amended prior to 2015).

18 entered pursuant to Article 1916(B) or by consent judgment.

19 ~~(12)~~(13) All other matters in which the law permits summary proceedings
20 to be used.

21 Revision Comments - 2015

22 An action under Paragraph (9) of this Article may also be brought ex parte
23 when the undertutor concurs in the recommendation made by the tutor. See C.C.P.
24 Art. 4271. If the undertutor fails to concur in the tutor's recommendation, the tutor
25 may proceed by summary proceedings against the undertutor. Id.

10 Revision Comment - 2015

11 This Article expounds and consolidates its predecessor articles. See C.C.P.
 12 Arts. 4521 and 4522 (as amended prior to 2015). Like its predecessors, this Article

 14 a judgment or settlement.

15 ~~Art. 4522. Judgment in favor of minor; structured settlement~~

20 ~~B. In determining whether a proposed payment schedule is in the best~~
 21 ~~interest of the minor, the court shall consider the following factors:~~

22 ~~(1) Age and life expectancy of the minor.~~

23 ~~(2) Current and anticipated financial needs of the minor.~~

24 ~~(3) Income and estate tax implications.~~

28 Section 3. R.S. 9:571, 572 and 951 through 954 are hereby amended and reenacted,
 29 and R.S. 9:573 and Chapter 3-A of Code Title VIII of Code Book I of Title 9 of the

2 (1) Alienate any movable property of the minor if the sum to be received
3 does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars.

4 (2) Encumber any property of the minor as security for his obligation
5 if the secured obligation does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars.

7 property to be paid or received does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars,
8 excluding court costs, attorney fees, and other expenses.

10 property of the minor, if the value of the minor's property transferred by the 23 ~~§951~~. Provisional custody by mandate; conferring

24 ~~A. Parents acting jointly or, in the event of divorce, or separation from bed~~
25 ~~and board, or illegitimacy, the natural tutor, tutrix, or cotutors acting jointly, or a~~

28 ~~B. For purposes of this Chapter, any person who could qualify as a natural~~

3 C. ~~Provisional custody by mandate may not be conferred upon a parent or~~
4 ~~other person previously denied custody by court order.~~

5 §951. Provisional custody by mandate of persons having parental authority;
6 delegation

7 A person having parental authority over a child may delegate the 8 provisional custody of that child by written mandate to any natural person.

9 Revision Comments - 2015

10 (a) This provision differs from its predecessor, R.S. 9:951, in that it applies
11 only during the existence of parental authority under C.C. Arts. 221 through 235
12 (Rev. 2015) while the parents of a child are married. When parental authority
13 terminates or a third person other than an ascendant is awarded custody of the child
14 during parental authority as C.C. Art. 234 (Rev. 2015) recognizes to be a possibility,
15 R.S. 9:961 (Rev. 2015) applies.

16 (b) Even though this provision only applies during the existence of parental
17 authority, ascendants awarded custody of a child during the marriage of his parents
18 have parental authority (see C.C. Art. 234, second paragraph, (Rev. 2015), and are 19 extended the same opportunity as parents to delegate custody of the child by 20 provisional mandate. This changes the law.

21 (c) Provisional custody by mandate is temporary. See R.S. 9:952 (Rev.
22 2015).

23 §952. Duration of provisional custody; termination

24 A. The mandate of provisional custody shall be effective for the ~~duration of~~ 25 ~~time provided therein,~~ term stipulated, but in no case shall it the stated term shall 26 not exceed one year from the date of execution.

27 B. Regardless of the ~~duration provided above,~~ term stipulated, the mandate
28 of provisional custody shall terminate:

29 (1) When revoked by ~~either parent, by a natural tutor or tutrix, by either~~
30 ~~natural cotutor, or by a grandparent awarded custody~~ any person having parental
31 authority.

32 (2) When the agent mandatary resigns or otherwise renounces the mandate.

33 (3) Fifteen days after the death of ~~either parent, natural tutor or tutrix, natural~~ 34 ~~cotutor, or grandparent awarded custody~~ any person having parental authority.

35 (4) Upon the qualification of a court appointed tutor or provisional tutor.

1 §953. ~~Functions, powers, and duties of agent~~ Authority of the mandatary

2 ~~In addition to the general functions, powers, and duties accorded to tutors~~
3 ~~pursuant to Chapter 8 of Title VI of Book VII of the Code of Civil Procedure, except~~ 4 ~~those that require court approval, a mandate of child custody may provide for the~~ 5 ~~health, education, and welfare of the child, which, if so indicated, may include the~~ 6 ~~following:~~

7 A mandate of provisional custody of a child may provide for the health,
8 education, and welfare of the child, including the following:

9 (1) Consenting to and authorizing such medical care, treatment, or surgery
10 as may be ~~deemed~~ necessary for the health, safety, and welfare of the child.

11 (2) Enrolling the child in such schools or educational institutions as may be 12 ~~deemed~~ necessary for his ~~due~~ and proper education.

13 (3) Disciplining the child in such reasonable manner as may be necessary for 14 his proper rearing, supervision, and training.

15 (4) Doing and performing all other such acts as may be necessary for the 16 shelter, support, and general welfare of the child.

17 §954. Statutory form

18 ~~The following is a suggested form which may be used by a parent, natural~~
19 ~~tutor, tutrix, or cotutors acting jointly, or a grandparent awarded custody, to confer~~
20 ~~the power of provisional custody for the care, custody, and control of the named~~

23                    Revision Comment - 2015

24                    The provisional custody by mandate as provided in R.S. 9:951 (Rev. 2015)
25 need not be in authentic form, only in writing, even though this "suggested form"
26 does provide for the signatures of two witnesses and the notary. See C.C. Art. 1833
27 (Rev. 1984).

28                    CHAPTER 3-A. PROVISIONAL CUSTODY BY MANDATE OF A TUTOR

29                    OR GRANDPARENT WITH CUSTODY

30                    §961. Provisional custody by mandate of a natural tutor or cotutors with 31 custody, but not yet judicially qualified, or a grandparent
32 awarded custody of a child; delegation

33                    A natural tutor or cotutors with custody, but not yet judicially qualified,
34 or a grandparent awarded custody of a child after parental authority
35 terminates, may delegate the provisional custody of that child by written 36 mandate to any natural person, subject to the same rules governing the duration 37 of the mandate and the authority and obligations of the mandatary as those 38 governing the provisional custody by mandate of persons having parental
39 authority.

40                    Revision Comments - 2015

41                    (a) This provision expands and clarifies its predecessor, R.S. 9:951.
42 Authority to execute the mandate is extended to a grandparent awarded custody by 43 the court even if not appointed tutor. It clarifies prior law by limiting the tutor

1 authorized to execute the mandate to the tutor with custody of the minor child, not
2 a tutor with administration of the minor's property only.

4 (b) The provisional custody by mandate of natural tutors and cotutors and 5 grandparents with custody is to be subject in all respects, including duration and 6 content, to the provisions governing a mandate of provisional custody granted by
