2016 Regular Session

Lance Harris

Abstract: Prohibits sex offenders from working as door-to-door salesmen.

Present law prohibits sex offenders from seeking employment where they operate any bus, taxicab, or limousine for hire, engage in employment as a service worker who goes into a residence to provide any type of service, or operate any carnival or amusement ride (if the victim was a minor child).

Present law further provides for criminal penalties including a fine of not more than $10,000 and imprisonment for five to 10 years at hard labor, with three years to be served without benefit of probation, parole, or suspension of sentence.

Proposed law retains present law and also prohibits sex offenders from working as door-to-door solicitors.
