

2016 Regular Session

SENATE BILL NO. 441

BY SENATOR CARTER

EMPLOYMENT. Provides relative to employee wages. (8/1/16)

1 AN ACT

2 To amend and reenact R.S. 23:632, relative to employee wages; to provide for employer
3 penalties; to provide for liability of employer to pay wages; to provide for good faith
4 defenses; to provide for joint employment relationships; and to provide for related
5 matters.

6 Be it enacted by the Legislature of Louisiana:

7 Section 1. R.S. 23:632 is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

8 §632. Liability of employer for failure to pay; attorney fees; good faith exception

9 A. Except as provided for in Subsection B of this Section, any employer who 10 fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of R.S. 23:631 shall be liable to the 11 employee either for ninety working days wages at the employee's daily rate of pay,
12 or else for full wages from the time the employee's demand for payment is made 13 until the employer shall pay or tender the amount of unpaid wages due to such 14 employee, whichever is the lesser amount of penalty wages.

15 B. ~~When the court finds that an employer's dispute over the amount of wages~~
16 ~~due was in good faith, but the employer is subsequently found by the court to owe~~ 17 ~~the amount in dispute, the employer shall be liable only for the amount of wages in~~

1 ~~dispute plus judicial interest incurred from the date that the suit is filed. If the court~~
 2 ~~determines that the employer's failure or refusal to pay the amount of wages owed~~
 3 ~~was not in good faith, then the employer shall be subject to the penalty provided for~~
 4 ~~in Subsection A of this Section.~~

5 (1) An employer may assert a good faith defense to the payment of 6 penalty wages. To prove good faith, the employer, after conducting a thorough
 7 investigation of the demand, shall show at the time of its written response a
 8 reasonable belief that disputed wages were not owed.

9 (2) A good faith defense is not available to an employer who has failed
 10 to timely pay any undisputed wages.

11 (3) The existence of a good faith defense, even if proven, does not affect 12 the employer's liability to the employee for attorney fees and costs if a 13 meritorious lawsuit has been filed.

14 C. Reasonable attorney fees shall be allowed the laborer or employee by the 15 court which shall be taxed as costs to be paid by the employer, in the event a well-
 16 founded suit for any unpaid wages whatsoever be filed by the laborer or employee
 17 after three days shall have elapsed from time of making the first demand following
 18 discharge or resignation. If the court finds a joint employment relationship, each
 19 employer shall be liable in solido for any wages, penalties, damages, interest,
 20 attorney fees, and costs owed.

The original instrument and the following digest, which constitutes no part of the legislative instrument, were prepared by Ashley Mitchell Carter.

DIGEST

SB 441 Engrossed

2016 Regular Session

Carter

Present law provides that upon termination of employment, an employer shall pay the employee the amount due him. If the employer does not comply, then he is liable to the employee for 90 days wages at the employee's daily rate, or for full wages from the date the employee demand for payment is made, whichever is the lesser amount.

Proposed law retains present law but adds that the employer is liable for 90 working days.

Proposed law deletes present law that provides that when the employer was in good faith but the court finds that there are still wages owed to the employee, the employer will only have to pay the amount of wages in dispute along with interest. However, when the employer was not in good faith, the employer will be liable to the employee for 90 days wages at the employee's daily rate, or for the full wage amount from the date the employee demands the payment is made.

Proposed law provides that the employer may assert a good faith defense and provide a written response showing the reasonable belief that the disputed wages were not owed.

Proposed law provides that a good faith defense is not available to an employer who fails to timely pay any undisputed wages.

Proposed law provides that a showing of good faith defense, even if proven, does not relieve the employer of his liability to the employee for attorney fees and costs for a meritorious claim.

Present law provides that reasonable attorney fees shall be awarded to the employee by the court provided the requirements are met. Proposed law provides instead that if the court finds that there is a joint employment relationship, each employer will be liable in solido for any wages, penalties, damages, interest, attorney fees, and costs owed.

Effective August 1, 2016

(Amends R.S. 23:632)

Summary of Amendments Adopted by Senate

Committee Amendments Proposed by Senate Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations to the original bill

1. Removes provisions which deny an employer a good faith defense if wages are paid in cash or if the employee is improperly classified as an independent contractor.
2. Changes the term "well-founded law suit" to a "meritorious lawsuit" as it relates to the qualifications for attorney fees payable to the employee by the employer.