HB Draft

2016 Regular Session

Abstract: Prohibits clerks of district courts from refusing to record instruments for noncompliance with recordation requirements.

Present law provides that every document filed for recordation shall be captioned with the type of the act, a two-inch margin on the top, and a one-inch margin at the bottom and sides on the first page, with no less than an 8 point font.

Present law provides that any document in noncompliance with present law shall be charged a $10 noncompliance fee per document.

Proposed law deletes the present law noncompliance fee and prohibits clerks of district court from refusing to record an instrument for noncompliance with the provisions of present law.

Proposed law further provides that documents in noncompliance with present law shall not invalidate the instrument or the effect given to its recordation.

Effective October 1, 2016.
