¹From 1845 to 1976 the lieutenant governor served as president of the Senate. Beginning in 1976, with the adoption of the Constitution of 1974, the Senate elects one of its own members as president in accordance with Article III, Section 7 of that constitution.

THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

Beginning with the first Louisiana Constitution in 1812, the members of the Senate have been able to choose their own clerical officers. Article 9 of the 1812 constitution states: " The members of the Senate shall be chosen for the term of four years, and when assembled shall have the power to choose its officers annually". Act No. 4 of 1812 also provided a stipend of three and a half dollars per day for the secretary.

The next constitution, adopted in 1845, has similar language with regard to the officers of the Senate (Article 14), and in particular, Article 104 specifically requires that the "secretary of the senate and clerk of the house of representatives shall be conversant with the French and English languages, and members may address either house in the French or English language".

The constitutions of 1852, 1864 and 1868 continue the provision that the members of the senate shall have the power to choose their officers.

Act No. 52 of the 1870 Extraordinary Session specifically provides that "for the purpose of facilitating the organization of their respective bodies, the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, shall hold over and continue in office from one term of the General Assembly to another, and until their successors are duly elected and qualified". The provisions of this Act were incorporated into the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1952, Title 24, Section 33.

It is not until the constitution of 1879 that language is adopted as being specific to legislative officers. Article 41 of that constitution states: "The clerical officers of the two Houses of Representatives shall be a Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives,...".

Similar language follows in the constitutions of 1898, 1913, and 1921 in articles 43, 43 and 28 respectively.

With the adoption of Louisiana's newest constitution in 1974, the tradition continues in Article III, § 7(C), which provides that the "clerical officers shall be the clerk of the House of Representatives and the secretary of the Senate...".

³With the passage of Act 1326 of the 1995 Regular Session, the voters of Louisiana approved limiting the number of consecutive terms that legislators may serve in each individual house. Incorporated into Article 3, Section 4(E) of the Constitution of 1974, term limits became effective with the fall elections of 2007.

A number of state representatives who were affected by term limits chose to run for election to the Senate. Of those who ran, nine won seats in the upper chamber. An asterisk (*) indicates a term-limited member of the House of Representatives who won election to the Senate for the 2008 - 2012 term.

¹¹Carroll Parish was created from portions of both Ouachita and Concordia Parishes by an Act of March 14, 1832. The act provided that the voters of the new senatorial district would unite with Ouachita Parish to elect a senator. Carroll Parish was subsequently divided into East and West Carroll Parishes by Act No. 24 of the extraordinary session of 1877.

¹² A special committee investigated the election between Clark and Walker and concluded that the election was "irregularly held" and that neither men were intitled to a seat in the Senate. They recommended that the Governor issue a call for a new election to fill the vacancy. (Senate Journal, October 5, 1864, p.6)

¹⁹Felician County was divided into six parishes by an Act of 1811: Feliciana, East Baton Rouge, St. Helena, St. Tammany, Biloxi and Pascagoula. Feliciana Parish was further divided into East and West Feliciana parishes by an Act approved February 17, 1824. Biloxi and Pascagoula Parishes were later absorbed into the new states of Mississippi and Alabama.
